Javan Johnson is a Canadian songwriter who has been a veteran performer as one-half of the alt-country duo Son of John for the past decade. Born and raised in Nelson, British Columbia, Javan is now making a name for himself as a sought after solo singer-songwriter, with in-the-round performances at the 2025 Boots N' Boats Songwriters Festival in Lake Country, BC, and 'Nashville Afternoons' at SunFest Country Music Festival on Vancouver Island.

Javan has been writing songs since he was 15, and recently recorded live off the floor, single take, acoustic versions of some of his songs, releasing them as The Solo Sessions EP, just a sneak peek of the music he might create as he explores opportunities of a solo artist career.

SON OF JOHN

Until then, Javan splits his time between BC and Nashville, playing fiddle for hire, releasing and performing music as Son of John, his alt-country collaboration project, and writes songs – with a unique voice described somewhere stuck between John Mayer and Elvis Costello, mixed with country music influences like Riley Green and Sam Hunt, Javan's sound and songwriting are distinct and versatile.
